
Timothy Moe

Global Investment Research
Hong Kong

Timothy is the co-head of Macro Research in Asia and is the chief Asia Pacific regional equity strategist. He is responsible for views on Asia Pacific Ex-Japan regional equity markets and communicating these perspectives to the firm's institutional investor base. Timothy and his team have been consistently rated among the top regional equity strategy groups. He serves as a member of the Pine Street Asia Pacific Advisory Group and the Global Investment Research Client and Business Standards Committee. Timothy joined Goldman Sachs in 2002 as a managing director in Global Investment Research in Hong Kong and was named partner in 2006.

Timothy began his career in Hong Kong with Jardine Fleming, where he was head of Asia Ex-Japan Regional Research and regional strategist from 1985 to 1993. He held the same role at Salomon Brothers in Hong Kong from 1993 to 1996 before moving to New York, where he was a partner at Omega Advisors, a global equity hedge fund.

Timothy earned an MBA in Finance from New York University's Stern School of Business and is a member of the Dean's Executive Board. He also received a BA in Art History and Economics from New York University and is a CFA charterholder.